

Stronger Than Before

By Janny Grien

Even tho' the rain comes down

It brings life into the ground

And I know the sun will shine

And that gives hope again

To this heart of mine... This heart of mine

I know God can heal all things

Broken lives and broken wings

Only He can mend a heart

That this world has torn apart... Torn apart

As the season make their turn

There's a lesson here to learn

Broken wings take time to mend

Before they learn to fly again

On the breath of God they'll soar

They'll be stronger than before

Don't look back into the past

What was fire now is ash

Let it all be dead and gone

Time in now moving on... Time for moving on

As the seasons make their turn
There's a lesson here to learn
Broken wings take time to mend
Before they learn to fly again
On the breath of God they'll soar
They'll be stronger than before

Broken wings take time to mend
Before they learn to fly again
On the breath of God they'll soar... they'll be stronger than before
On the breath of God I'll soar

On the breath of God I'll soar
I'll be stronger than before
Stronger than before

On the breath of God I'll soar
I'll be stronger than before

[Repeat]

On the Breath of God I'll soar
